customs of the white men; no white man had ever been in their town before, and they hoped I would excuse them if they proceeded in their own way. He then picked up the dried fish, the trap and net, and handed them to me, saying, Bonny and Calabar have ships to trade with, but Okriku water frontage. Apply to P. & A. has nothing but fish. It is on fish we live, it is with fish we buy the oil we have to sell; and this has been so ever since Okrika became a country." It was in the creeks I saw in coming that they caught their fish, and Calabar men came into THE Property known as "ALMACK PLACE," these creeks and stole their fish out of the nets, L. having a frontage of Eighty-three feet on and also robbed their canoes." Mr. Livingstone Wellington and Gage Streets, and of two hundred discussed with them terms of peace, and it was and twenty-nine feet on Aberdeen Street, comfinally arranged that Fibia should send down prising a superficial area of about 19,000 square two of his chiefs to meet the chiefs of Bonny and Calabar and settle the differences. The Consul adds:— The session lasted four hours and a balf. Never before in Africa have I seen such powerful-looking men as the Okrika. I could not but admire their physical strength. As they sat before me chewing bits of chapatick to cleantheir teeth and gazing carnestly at me, the thought occasionally flashed zeross my mind, Are these cannibals wondering how a piece of lars, apply to roast Consul would taste, and which would be most savoury, cold Consul or hot?. On parting. Fibia made me a present of about a cartload of gigantic yams, two goats, and a fowl." Fighting by Telegraph.—The latest maritime novelty, observes the Globe, is the use of the telegraph in the Norwegian herring fishery. The deep-sea fisheries from the Naze to Varanger Fjord extend over a range of 1,200 miles, the population interested is probably not less than 150,000. The fishermen move to and fro with their boats along the coast. Telegraphic stations are erected at different points on the coast, and the inspectors cause daily notice to be given of the appearance and position of each shoal. "Field" telegraphs are kept in readiness to be joined on to the main line, and thus the slightest movement of the shoals is carefully watched and communicated; and it is a curious sight to witness the sudden exodus of thousands | 1 DOWNS, in Wyndham Street, opposite the of fishermen, with their train of buyers, salters, Ac., with boats, barrels, and appliances, bastening to a distant place at the call of the wire The men seem to prize highly this valuable conflutor, and when the catch is chiefly attributable to its agency, they call the fish "talegraph herrings." Additions to the Boyal Navy. - A return, made at the instance of the Duke of Sonierset, shows, according to the Civil Service Gazette, that in the seven years, 1869—66, 105 ships, of 201,905 tons, were ordered to be built, purchased, or converted into iron-clads or screws; and 77 whips, of 116,587 tous, ordered to be hullt before 1860, were launched after that date, making a total addition in the seven years of 182 chips. of 321,492 tons. In the same period 327 chips, of 273,761 tons, were withdrawn from the Royal navy by sale, lose at sea, or otherwise, making the net result a diminution of 145 in the number of ships, but an increase of 47.731, in the number of tons. Fifty wooden screw ships, in with. Ships removed from the list of sailing ships to that of steamships, or from the list of steam-ships to that of armour-plated ships, apnear on both sules of this account.
